

1. What roles do you play on your Evergreen project? (check all that apply)
 - a. System Administration
 - b. Application Administration and Support
 - c. Developer
 - d. Trainer
 - e. Library staff member
 - f. Service provider
 - g. Manager
 - h. Other (please describe)
2. Do you subscribe to any of the following lists? (check all that apply)
 - a. General Discussion List
 - b. Documentation Discussion List
 - c. Technical Discussion List
 - d. Evergreen SVN Commit List
 - e. OpenSRF SVN Commit List
3. Have you contributed content to open-ils.org?
 - a. If yes, what type of content?
 - b. If no, why not?
4. What types of content do you most often access on open-ils.org? (Check all that apply)
 - a. Documentation
 - b. Blogs
 - c. Downloads
 - d. Links to other sites
5. Were you able to find what you were looking for on open-ils.org?
 - a. If yes, was it easy to find?
 - b. If no, what were you looking for that you didn't find?
6. Based on the user stories developed by the web team, what do you feel are the most important functions of the site? (1 – Very Important, 2 – Important, 3 – Nice to Have, 4 – Extraneous)
 - a. General information applicable to the entire Evergreen community (i.e. news, events, governance, roadmaps)
 - b. Identify individuals within the Evergreen community with particular skills or interests.
 - c. Help potential Evergreen users to help them determine whether Evergreen is a good fit for their organization.
 - d. Help potential service providers determine what Evergreen related services they can provide.
 - e. Help new Evergreen users with their implementation.
 - f. Help existing Evergreen users support and expand their implementation
 - g. Help new developers get started
 - h. Help new documentors get started
 - i. Other (please describe)